

Immerse yourself in nature's raw beauty while camping in the wild at Ol Pejeta Conservancy.

OUR CAMPSITES:

HIPPO HIDE CAMPSITE

Situated on the banks of the Ewaso Nyiro River and located close to the Hippo Hide walk way, where you can walk along the river bank while viewing hippos in their natural habitat

OL LERAI CAMPSITE

Ol Lerai is located along the Ewaso Nyiro River and has the two unique features; a little island that's a perfect for a sundowner and an extended river ideal for fishing. It is regularly frequented by herds of elephants and impalas

MURERA DONGA CAMPSITE

This secluded campsite surrounded by acacia trees is situated next to the marsh area in the Conservancy which due to the lush vegetation attracts wildlife throughout the year

EWASO CAMPSITE

Hidden behind bushy vegetation and acacia trees, this campsite on the banks of the Ewaso Nyiro River is a serene haven offering magnificent views of elephants and other wildlife as they gather on the riverbanks

MBOGO CAMPSITE

Mbogo Campsite, named after the buffalo, offers a serene escape with lush marshes, rippling plains, and stunning sundowner views. Located east of the conservancy, it's perfect for peace and rejuvenation

SCOTT'S HIDE CAMPSITE

A hide, or blind, is a camouflaged shelter where people can observe wildlife closely without disturbing them. Get a chance to camp at Scott's Plain next to the hide overlooking a water hole favored by a diverse range of animals. By using the hide as a hideout to spot animals, you can often see some fascinating behavior from both mammals and birds, who might act differently around vehicles and vocal people. When wild animals are completely unaware of human presence, it's amazing what close encounters you can discover
